ARMY COMMUNITY SERVICE
“Real-Life Solutions for Successful Army Living”

MISSION: ACS assists Soldiers and Families in maintaining readiness by coordinating and delivering comprehensive, responsive services that promote self-reliance, resiliency, and stability.

VISION: Self-sufficient Families, safe homes and cohesive communities, enhanced readiness

Army Community Service offers a comprehensive array of programs and services dedicated to maintaining the readiness of Soldiers, Families and communities by fostering self-reliance, resiliency, and stability. It is the commander’s principal Family readiness agency, providing comprehensive, coordinated, and responsive services that support readiness of Soldiers, civilian employees and their Families during peace and war.

ACS is customer-driven, proactive, and prevention oriented. It offers integrated services oriented to the needs of the unit. ACS appreciates and understands that Army communities are multi-generational, with needs that must be met on “their terms”.

The Army recognizes that helping Families is its moral obligation, and is in everyone’s best interest. Families that can cope and enjoy Army life are more likely to contribute to the community, enhance Soldier readiness and encourage Soldier retention.

ACS achieves its mission by maximizing technology and resources, adapting programs and services to unique requirements, eliminating duplication in service delivery, and continually measuring service effectiveness.

ACS works to build community cohesion on and off post. ACS believes communities that develop the ability to work together create a better and more promising future for all their members.

Personal experience teaches us that having friendships and connections to the community makes navigating life a whole lot easier.
